Oliver Corporation
Steps Production
Up To New Level

The Oliver Corporation at its headquarters plants today, announced important increases in its production schedules for wheel tractors and other farm machinery. Stepped up production schedules in the company's farm machinery plants become effective Nov. 1st.

The most notable increase in production and employment will occur at the company's Charles City, Iowa wheel tractor plant, where schedules will be two and one-half times the current production rate. Substantial increases will be made in production schedules at the two plants in South Bend, Ind., also those in Shelbyville, Ill., Cleveland, Ohio, Springfield, Ohio, and York, Penn.

When asked for the underlying causes for such increases, A. King McCord, President, said, "These scheduled production increases are due to a number of factors."

"Our dealer organization has been materially strengthened. Dealer and company inventories have been reduced and are in a good, balanced condition. New wheel tractor models and new models of other types of farm machinery have had enthusiastic market acceptance."

"These factors together with the management's belief in the basic soundness and growth of the nation's economy enabled us to take this aggressive step."

Begin Census With
Appointment of 5
Area Enumerators

The appointment of Mrs. June Ulrich of Mokena, Mrs. Barbara Rutkowski of Crete, Mr. W. H. Neison of Joliet, Mrs. Erma Thomas of Lockport and Mrs. Ernie Schew of Mokena as enumerators in the 1954 Census of Agriculture was announced today by Crew Leader John H. Cryder.

These enumerators will canvass farms in Frankfort, Green Garden, New Lenox, Homer and Crete townships.

The enumerator is the "infantry man" of the Census organization. It is his duty to locate every farm within the area assigned to him, interview each farm operator and obtain an accurate record of all farming operations as well as information covering farm facilities, equipment and related items. Enumerators work a minimum of eight hours daily and must be available for evening work, if necessary, to complete their assignments.

These people reported to the Will County court house, Joliet, Tuesday, Oct. 26, for their training session. They will begin enumeration of the farms in their enumeration district at once.

It is expected that the enumeration will take from three to four weeks to complete.

Trump Chevrolet
Shows New Car
To Public Today

The new 1955 Chevrolet car which is now on display at the Trump Chevrolet show rooms in Frankfort has many new features.

It has been announced that no major part has been overlooked in the broadside improvement program. All roofs have been visibly lowered with a corresponding reduction in hood and body lines to accentuate a longer, sleeker appearance.

This is the first time a V8 engine has been offered on a Chevrolet in 35 years. Named the "Turbo-Fire V8" it delivers 162 horsepower. There are also higher horsepower ratings and new quietness and smoothness in two "Blue Flame" sixes. The engines are of the traditional valve in-head design.

The integration of body and frame design makes an important reduction in vibration and has been effected and weight saved. The front and rear suspensions have been revamped, adding riding comfort and roadability. There is also increased safety through greater visibility with every car window of safety glass. An overdrive installation is being offered for the first time which is optional. There is a 12-volt standard electrical system on both models, the sixes and the V8's.

The "Dry Air" ventilation involves an arch-shaped plenum chamber that channels fresh air from a slotted cowl vent. The tubeless tires give increased safety. The most distinguished mark on the new Chevrolet bodies is their low-slug silhouette and vertical windshield pillars. Broad, flat hood and trunk lids are approximately 3½ inches lower than last year while the high, straight crown of the fenders enhances an impression of fleetness and agility. The design gives the cars the appearance of much greater length although wheel bases remain the same.

The complete line-up shows two and four-door sedans in all series, two and four door station wagons, a club coupe and a convertible coup.

The Radiosonde is a device used to obtain weather information from altitudes as high as 14 miles.

HUGE BONFIRE, WEINIE ROASTList Election Law Requirements For Blue Ballot Voting

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today called the attention of voters to election law requirements concerning the "blue ballot," or constitutional amendments ballot, to be voted on at the Nov. 2 general election.

One provision of the law is that the blue ballot must be placed on top of the other ballots when the group of them is handed to the voter, and it must be in such a position that the instructions printed on the back will be plainly visible, Secretary Carpenter said.

Another provision is that, whether the individual votes the blue ballot or not, he must return it to the election judge with the other ballots. Mr. Carpenter said, Part of the instructions on the back of the ballot reads, "Whether you vote this ballot or not, you must return it to the election judge when you leave the voting booth."

A third provision is that the election judge shall not accept any ballots from the voter unless all of them are presented after voting. In other words, Mr. Carpenter said, the voter is prohibited by law from withholding any ballots and the election judge is prohibited from permitting him to withhold any.

The voter, if he wishes, may vote for one, two or three of the proposed amendments to the constitution. The proposed amendments are Senatorial reapportionment; increasing the state treasurer's term of office from two to four years, and granting permission to the legislature to sell or lease the Illinois-Michigan canal without a referendum, Secretary Carpenter said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mrs. Semmler,

This is to express our appreciation for your excellent coverage of the recent rains and floods in northern Illinois and Indiana. We had heard radio reports, but had not had a Chicago newspaper, and so had little real information about conditions until the News-Bulletin came. (The Lexington papers do not cover much that happens outside Kentucky.)

We feel that your story was an example of very good news coverage, and that you should be complimented on it.

Present Sketches
Of Republicans For Consideration Nov. 2

Next Tuesday is election day when Will county, as well as other counties in this country will go to the polls and choose whom they desire to be elected for the given offices.

In Will county, on the Republican ticket the candidates are all well known each having served previously, except Floyd H. Krapf, candidate for county treasurer.

Each of these candidates have done a good job, are good clean men of high character and of whom anyone can be proud.

Warren L. Wood of Plainfield, and John M. King of Wheaton are candidates for representatives in the state legislature. Mr. Wood has been chosen Speaker of the House and has handled that position well. He deserves to be returned.

John C. Cowing, candidate for county judge, has surely shown his ability, when for the past term he has filled the position of both county judge and probate judge, since the illness of Judge Adams who was elected probate judge, and has been unable to serve. Judge Cowing has filled both positions in a fearless undisputed and competent manner.

Judge Cowing will be relieved of that double work when a new probate judge will be elected, and no finer a person could be found than Stewart C. Hutchison, a successful Joliet attorney for many years. He has the capability and sympathetic personality to fill that office well and with understanding. Hutchison's opponent on the Democratic ticket is Stuart C. Kroesch an attorney in Joliet.

Joseph H. Hartley, has served as county clerk for several years and has done a fine piece of work for the county. His office is in good shape due to the modernization of antiquated files among the births, deaths and marriage records. He states as of May 1954 he has turned over to the county treasurer $162,340.29 as surplus earnings.

Edward B. Workman has made an excellent clerk of the probate court and deserves to be returned.

New to the county offices is Candidate Floyd H. Krapf, candidate for county treasurer. Mr. Krapf is not unknown to those in this area, living as he does on his farm in Green Garden where he has lived all his life. Although he is a farmer, he has had special training in college in the business field and will make a good treasurer.

Roy C. Doerfler, candidate for sheriff, has made an excellent record as head of the county police officers. He finished out the unexpired term of office of Mr. Overmyer and therefore this makes the first time he has run for that office. Has been fearless and quick in his work and has a good understanding of all his deputies who work co-operatively with him, for the safety of the county.

Verne E. Crackel, candidate for county superintendent of schools, has made an exceptionally good record in this his first term and surely deserves to be returned. He has had the trying experience of many schools consolidating during his term as well as opening and building new schools, among which is our Lincoln-Way high school. He is of an understanding and kind disposition yet firm in his exacting of the best interests for the education available for our youth.

Of the candidates up for election outside of our county whom we have the privilege to vote for, is our well-known, Lottie Holman O'Neill, who has served our 41st senatorial district as senator, well and beyond reproach. She never turns a deaf ear to those who call on her and for whatever is good and best for the people. Her many friends, and they are many, in all walks of life, including the labor unions, are anxious to have her returned to that important office.

And of Noah M. Mason, it is a well known fact, he has been a staunch supporter for America first, and has fought so at all times as our representative in congress for this 15th district. Vernon L. Nickell, has made an unsurpassed record as superintendent of public instruction and will be a great asset to the educational field of the state to be re-elected.

Warren E. Wright, for state treasurer on the Republican ticket has a fine record in the business world to well qualify him for the office.

And of Joseph T. Meek, for United States Senator, there has so much been said about him, that it seems needless to say more here. It has been shown that he is fearless in his fight for the best of our country, and that he is opposed to any socialist tendency, and that is what

Present Eighth Play
"The Form Divine"

The Mokena Village Players started as a group in 1951 with Mrs. Kenneth Sherwood as the leader and director of the first play. Ever since that first successful play the Players have given a percentage of their receipts to some Mokena project. Included in these donations are a curtain for the school auditorium, Book club, Library, Village Park tents for scouts.

Mrs. James Surovick, as the director, with a large cast of 17 is working diligently to make the next play an interesting and amusing diversion for the Mokena people. Also not shown on the stage is another group of busy people who are just important to a production as the actors. Henry Clark, the business manager heads the list of enthusiastic helpers with Marguerite Angland and Eileen Hoohehan in charge of ticket sales. The house managers are Mildred Anderson and Patricia Marcoux with Marion Owen and Kay Owen, in charge of properties. Mary Zemeske will see pictures are made for the use of the publicity committee, Marcella Lehman and Margaret Lenz. Mary will also help with make-up with Nell McElveen and Virginia Sherwood who also has a part in the play.

The work of setting the stage and arranging the scenery is one of the hardest jobs of a production but with Bob Olson, Russell Anderson, Wendall Hamilton and Ted Pethes working well ahead of the scheduled date the stage will be set for an interesting living room. The curtain will be handled by Bob Olson, Jr. and Roger Swart, lighting by Henry Clark, III and sound effects by Donald Lehman. The Form Divine is a gay three act comedy and well worth an evening. Be sure to see it.

New to the county offices is Candidate Floyd H. Krapf, candidate for county treasurer. Mr. Krapf is not unknown to those in this area, living as he does on his farm in Green Garden where he has lived all his life. Although he is a farmer, he has had special training in college in the business field and will make a good treasurer.

Orchard Hill Farm
Kindergarten Visits
Indian Exhibits

Wearing feathered headresses but without a single war whoop the children of Orchard Hill farm kindergarten visited the Indian exhibits at the Natural History museum during the week designated in Chicago as Indian Week. For one of the pictures that were taken for the museum's annual magazine report the youngsters were grouped around a huge totem pole. They had made paper totem poles in their school workroom, as well as clothespin puppets, paper tepees, and beads of wampum.

Before visiting the museum they had learned much about the life of Indians, about clay and weaving and the various kinds of housing. On their school lawn is a large tepee the children have decorated themselves with Indian designs.

At school they saw the documentary film, "The Pueblo Boy," and soon they will see another film, this one on the American cowboy.

They have now begun learning much about the authentic cowboy's life, and next week will visit the Sunny Hills stables in Orland Park, where they will have the treat of riding horseback.

Creative Orchard Hill farm kindergarten is conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson. Teachers from Tinley Park are Mrs. Donald Boston, Mrs. Wilbert Mager, Mrs. Vincent Van Slyke, and Mrs. Dick Wille, Jr., and from Markham, Mrs. Norman Luger.

After a visit to the homes of several average American factory employees, during a plant inspection tour in the Midwest, a Frenchman said he was able at last to understand why there were no "classes" in our society. Why Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment Needs Your Vote

The unfair, un-American representation that now exists in Illinois is indicated in this map which compares the largest and the smallest legislative districts in the state. The 7th District, large shaded area, has a population of 850,000, as compared to the 39,000 population of the 17th

District, the small shaded area. Yet, the 7th District, which includes most of the suburban towns of residential Cook County has the same representation in the legislature as the tiny, industrialized, "West Side Bloc" controlled 17 District. Every legislative district in Illinois is outvoted by the 17 district. The Blue Ballot Amendment will correct this situation, and is one of the reasons Blue Ballot supporters say that the Reapportionment Amendment carries out the American ideal of fair representation for all citizens in Illinois.

Valuable Prizes Offering For Naming New Dining Room

$500 In Cash And Prizes Plus Chauffeured Cadillac For A Day

The increasing popularity of Frank and Lois Jurcak's country restaurant has made it necessary to add a new dining room with a seating capacity of 200 persons. They want you to come out and help celebrate their anniversary and help name this attractive new room. There will be orchids for the ladies and prizes for the lucky ones on October 29, 30 and 31. New gifts are being added daily to a giant jackpot of cash and prizes to be given away for the best name on October 31st. Listen to WJOL at 7:59 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., or watch this newspaper for listings. You can enter a name by mail, but we suggest you drive out for old fashioned country breakfast, a noonday lunch or a complete evening dinner and drop your entry in the suggestion box. The photo above shows a small portion of the new room.

Enter A Name Before Noon October 29

At 5 o'clock that evening you will be returned to the Valley View Farm where you and your family will be served dinner and receive your cash and prizes. Drive out tonight or tomorrow and enjoy a delicious home cooked meal served in a charming country atmosphere. Bring the family when you come to Valley View, the children are especially welcome and will enjoy an exciting hour "on the farm." Pictured above is the staff at Valley View. Look for the Pink Ballot

November 2, 1954

On Tuesday, November 2, 1954, you will be given a separate ballot at the polls to decide whether or not the present Tuberculosis Tax Law should be continued.

This is not a new tax, but merely the continuation of one that has been in existence in this county for 20 years.

We urge you to vote for its continuation and offer the following facts and figures for your general information:

1. 60 case of tuberculosis are now being hospitalized in a sanitarium with tax funds raised under this law. These would have to be brought home if the law does not pass.
2. 2,000 cases x-rayed annually in the sanitarium clinic at the request of their family physician — this service is without charge to the patient.
3. The law provides free care and treatment in a sanitarium to any resident of Will County since very few persons can personally afford to pay for the high cost of treatment when tuberculosis strikes.
4. Tuberculosis is a contagious disease that anyone can catch so we must hospitalize active cases, not only to insure their recovery, but also to protect you and your loved ones from infection.
5. Passage of the law will mean that the average taxpayer of Will County will continue to pay about $1.50 annually—a very small amount for insurance against tuberculosis.

The Phony Prophets

Going the rounds from coast to coast these days is a little jingle which reads:

"It must make a pessimist feel like a bum, when that predicted decline keeps declining to come!"

As is so often the case with verse, light or otherwise, there's more truth than poetry in it. And today's facts and figures bear out the truth of this one, to the consternation of the prophets of Gloom and Doom.

We are experiencing the development of a dynamic and expanding economy which is not only strengthening our national defense against potential enemies from within and without but is also promoting a higher standard of living for all Americans.

We are benefiting from the greatest tax reduction in history -- annual savings totaling $7,100,000,000, with nearly two-thirds of the benefits going directly to individuals.

More than 62,000,000 people are gainfully employed; wage rates and disposable personal income are at all-time highs.

That predicted decline sure does "keep declining to come!"

MY BOUQUET

By Whitney Carter

Each moment my love I lived with you,
And each hour, and each day,
Has added just another flower
dear
To freshen my bouquet.

Each whispered word of love
Has been a blooming rose,
And every kiss a flower sweet
In poetry or in prose!

Flowers of our honeymoon
And bright stars of September,
Are just a part of fragrant thoughts
I forever cherish and remember.

Within the vase that holds them all
I find no space today.
However there are many blooms
That add to my bouquet.

Whitney Carter.

Bremen Braves Take Lincoln-Way 38-0

Bremen high school Braves trounced a battling Lincoln-Way football eleven 38-0 Friday night, Oct. 15.

Scoring two touchdowns in the opening period, the Braves never were thwarted in registering their third victory in five starts. Bill Linsey-Bremen back, passed from the mid-stripe to teammate Bill Schram for the first score. George Stelmach accounted for the second marker on a wide end sweep.

Frank Warszalek and Onis Bond scored on line plunges in the second quarter, and Don Anicki, Bremen signal caller, ran the ball over for the extra point. At half-time the Braves led 25-0.

In the third period Bill Linsey scampered 38 yards behind an aggressive Bremen line for a touchdown.

The subs took over in the final quarter, and Lincoln-Way controlled the pigskin throughout. However, the Braves did take possession of the ball once and drove 60 yards for the final tally. Max Adamski, Bremen substitute quarterback, went the last five yards, and the Braves had the game wrapped up 38-0.

Bremen high school Braves scalped the Sandburg eleven 33-0 on the home field Friday afternoon, Oct. 22.

In registering their second conference win in three starts, the Braves pounded the Sandburg defense in all but the third period.

Before the second half closed, Frank Warszalek broke through left tackle for the second tally. He scored the point after touchdown, and Bremen led 14-0 at half time.

Bremen failed to score in the third period although it controlled the pigskin throughout. In the final quarter the Braves went on the warpath. Mike Adamski, George Stelmach, and Rich Hopman dashed for TD's, and the Braves had their crushing victory by a 33-0 score.

Oct. 29 the undefeated Rich Rockets invade Bremen land, and should the Braves win this tilt, there will be a three way tie for first place.

The first graders began weaving mats last week. They also did some finger painting, clay modeling, and drew pumpkin faces for Halloween.

Rita Ann Schinkowski gave her class, second grade, a treat on Monday, Oct. 18, and Wednesday, Oct. 20. Russell Batson gave them a treat. Both celebrated their birthdays. They have made tryouts for window painting.

The third graders have put up their Halloween decorations and are now making their Cleaning-bag costumes.

The fourth graders last week were busy making Halloween ghosts, with which to decorate their room.

In the contest the 5th and 6th graders were holding the sixth graders brought in the most money. Mrs. Robertson gave the whole room a treat Tuesday.

The seventh graders wrote letters to the candidates running for office last week. In the letters, they told them that on Nov. 2, they are going to hold an election in the classroom also.

Genevieve Majerus
And John O'Connell
Speak Nuptial Vows

The Rev. Thos. D. O'Connell officiated in recent nuptial services uniting in marriage Miss Genevieve Majerus and John R. O'Connell. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Math Majerus of Tinley Park and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris O'Connell of 8741 Justine St., Chicago.

The ceremony was read in St. George church Oct. 9 at 11 a. m. Nuptial music was provided by the organist, Anna Feldner and by Mrs. Barbara Deady, who sang "Ave Marie" and "Panis Angelicus."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and lace with a train. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings. She carried orchids with a white prayer book.

Miss Dorothy Majerus, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her floor-length gown was of colonial design in raspberry crystalette. Bridesmaids were Miss Eugenia Zbylut, Miss Myrtle Mitchell and Miss Carol Gillund. They were gowned identical as the maid of honor and all wore fresh flowers in their hair.

The groom's attendants were Bob Madden, Donald Majerus, William O'Connell and Gerald Bederman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Majerus wore a gown of blue crepe with lace, navy blue and pink accessories. Mrs. O'Connell wore a blue velvet suit-dress with rose accessories. Both wore rose and carnation corsages.

A reception was held in Saenger ballroom where a buffet luncheon was served to more than 200 guests.

The bride is a registered nurse at Little Company of Mary hospital. The bridegroom is with the U.S. air force, stationed in Florida. The newlyweds left on a motor trip through the Smokey Mountains and upon their return will leave for Florida.

A new daytime serial will originate from the WNBQ Chicago studios to the NBC-TV network when A Time To Live debuts July 5, Mondays through Fridays, (9:30-9:45 a. m., Channel 5). TV drama, with story by ace writer Bill Barrett, scriptor of the award-winning Hawkins Falls, concerns 28-year-old Julie Byron, aspirant to the life of a newspaper reporter on a big city daily where she is an anonymous proof-reader. Story opens as Julie receives her first "big chance" to cover a story.

WNBQ's Weatherman, Clint Youle, continually alert to a steady mail flow of questions and comments like the above, plans his programs with what has been called "Youle's neighborly, screened-porch approach to the weather." Clint has defined his personal weather reporting theories as speaker before the American Meteorological Society, of which group he is a member—and the only Chicago TV forecaster so honored! "Instead of simply saying: 'tomorrow, fair and warmer'," he advised fellow meteorologists, "personalize—call it 'a good day for washing or playing golf!'" The Illinois Commerce Commission last week refused to approve the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's petition for an increase of $425,000 a year in local rates. The proposed increase would have raised the rates for approximately 60,000 telephone subscribers in and around Granite City, Belleville and East St. Louis. A request for a $73,500 raise in "across the river" service rates was also denied.

The commission ruled that the existing telephone rates of the company are reasonable and just. This ruling dismisses the complaint filed by the Citizens' Committee to Fight Excessive Telephone Rates, which alleged that the existing rates were too high, and should be reduced. The rate increase case was first filed with the commission Dec. 30, 1953.

FRANKFORT, ILL.

BABSON SAYS—

Copyright, 1954, Publishers
Financial Bureau, Inc.

An analysis of retail sales shows some very interesting figures. From January 1 through September, 1954, sales declined about 2% from the same period last year. There, however, was a modest pickup during September. This was due largely to the cool weather and to this year's extensive store advertising.

The decline in 1954 has been in the face of more money available for spending than ever. Individuals' savings are at the highest level in history. Wages also are higher than ever before. Most prices are reasonable and storekeepers are trying hard to please their customers.

There should be more customers than ever, as a result of our net gain in population of 225,000 each month. Births are increasing and sickness is decreasing. More children are going to school and are dressing better at school. The only "out" is that parents do not have so much overtime money as they did in 1953.

This means that certain parents have had more time to do needed work at home. The "do-it-yourself" industries have boomed! People have been buying tools, paints, wallpaper, plywood, etc., instead of spending the money on movies and entertainment. Families are "cooking-it-themselves" more, and going out to restaurants less.

Some cities which have many parking meters have trained parents to visit the shopping centers together in couples, but always leaving one person in the car to listen to the radio, or read a picture magazine, or eat a nickel candy bar. This growing new habit has increased sales by drawing more people into the shopping district and eliminating their fear of getting parking tickets. Both persons can take their turn shopping, and also, at watching the parking meter and dropping in another nickel at the right time. Other stores have boys or girls with supplies of nickels to watch their customer's cars.

An analysis of sales shows that they have varied in accordance with parking facilities. Stores in which customers can trade without any parking problems show increases. The other stores have shown decreases. Since current high factory employment is impossible to maintain without high retail sales, it will be seen that unemployment figures of the entire country may be considerably affected by the availability of adequate parking facilities.

The truly "self-service" stores have shown the greatest increases in these, the customers need not wait for change or wrapping. They can shop quickly and pay at the check-out door. Hence, "self-service" is also helping the employment situation for the entire nation, as well as the well-being of each city. Local governments should remember that the retail merchants—not the factories—are the lifeblood of every city and every nation.

Parking meters are useful in preventing "all-day-parkers" from hogging the streets but otherwise they have hurt retail business. A woman leaves home with a large list of things she wants to buy. She finds a vacant parking space and drops five cents in the slot. Then she starts to get her supplies; but she is continually worrying about her car. The time goes too quickly. She is thinking of the car instead of her purchases. She goes home with half of her shopping list bought.

Every merchant should fight for free parking lots, or else lots that provide two-hour parking for five cents. In other words, cities must not only provide parking, but must also eliminate the worry and hurry of shoppers. The present idea of the customer to get back home as soon as possible is absolutely wrong. The setup and aim of the stores should be to keep her in the shopping district as long as possible.

Cold Weather Tips For All Motorists

The Chicago Motor Club today advised motorists to prepare for winter driving before cold weather arrives.

Club road service experts pointed out that freezing temperatures can be expected shortly and that service garages can give faster service than when freezing temperatures send the majority of motorists to them seeking aid.

The Club suggested having these five winterizing measures done now:

1. Drain, flush the radiator, check hose connections and thermostat, tighten clamps and add standard brand anti-freeze solution.

2. Check ignition system: generator, voltage regulator, distributor points. Reset timing, clean or replace spark plugs.

3. Test battery for full charge; clean battery terminals, tighten battery cables. Replace worn out battery or battery cables.

4. Check fuel pump. A faulty fuel pump will not pump gasoline to the engine from the gas tank.

5. Apply lightweight winter grade oil and grease. Be sure your engine and gears are properly lubricated.

Meek Addresses 36th Ward Audience At Annual Dinner

Joseph T. Meek, Republican nominee for United States senator, attacked what he described as the "socialistic stand on labor" of his rival, Sen. Paul Douglas, (D.).

"It must gall a laboring man to pay union dues to finance the candidacy of a man like my opponent, who has consistently tried to turn over to socialists and bureaucrats the inherent rights of workers to bargain collectively and individually," Meek told a 36th Ward audience at the annual dinner of the Republican organization, Oct. 20 under the leadership of state Senator Peter J. Miller.

"I have worked for 20 years with conscientious labor leaders properly to amend and improve laws relating to unemployment compensation, occupational diseases, and workmen's compensation. In my 20 years of legislative work I have never favored legislation to put a halt on trade unionism. I have never attempted, as my opponent has, to take away the inherent rights of labor and bestow them upon a bureaucracy to control and administer."

"Labor will understand, I am confident, that I shall continue to work for free markets that lighten his tax load, for spirited competition that creates more jobs, for sound collective bargaining. Most of all, labor knows I will work for a partnership with management, with government, and with the public - not for a politically inspired division of interests and selfish appeal to each interest in a bid for votes."

An electric incinerator that will dispose of trash as well as waste food and sanitise cans and bottles is being developed for home use.

It is predicted that 66,000,000 TV sets will be in use in American homes by 1964-44,000,000 of them color sets.

Winter Care Will Add Life To Your Farm Equipment

Take care of the gasoline engines on your farm equipment during the winter and you'll get lots more service out of them.

The first thing to do is check the engine cooling system to be sure there are no leaks before you put in antifreeze.

You may need to tighten or replace radiator and heater hoses. Don't take a chance with hoses that are old and soft. Also, drain and flush the cooling system before you add antifreeze.

Alcohol is all right as an antifreeze in engines used for light work. But, because alcohol has a low boiling point, it is generally not suitable for tractors. Permanent-type antifreeze is best for tractors and for trucks and cars equipped with 180 degree thermostats. You can use antifreeze more than one season, but you run the risk of having a clogged cooling system.

It's especially important to keep the engine up to operating temperature during the winter. Operating for a few hours at low temperature will cause sludge and lots of engine wear. A good thermostat cuts warm-up time and keeps the engine up to operating temperature. Change oil oftener than usual during the winter to rid the engine of harmful acids and sludge.

Ice in the gas line can be a real headache. Avoid this trouble by cleaning sediment bowls and draining water out of your gasoline storage tank now. Fill tractor and auto tanks at the end of the day's run to prevent water from condensing. And keep storage tanks as full as possible you'll arrive safely.

For quick, easy starting, keep the battery fully charged and Check your instruction book for ignition system in good repair. recommendations on changing to a lighter weight oil and taking care of other winter needs.

New Legislation To Require Bid On Tax Paid Bond Issues

Legislation to protect the taxpayers by requiring local governments to advertise for bids on bond issues that are payable from property taxes, and to sell the bonds to the best bidder at public sale, has been drafted and will be jointly sponsored at the next session of the Illinois General Assembly by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois and the Civic Federation of Chicago.

"It is difficult to see how anyone who believes that the taxpayer should receive maximum value for his tax dollar can oppose this bill," George Mahin, Executive Secretary of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, stated.

The proposed legislation, drafted by a special committee of bond experts for the Taxpayers' Federation, will not apply to bond issues of less than $100,000 since it is difficult to secure competitive bids for bond issues of less than this amount. The bill does not apply to revenue bonds, which are not repaid from property taxes, nor does it apply to refunding bonds.

The purpose of the bill is to insure the lowest possible interest rate on government bond issues, so that property taxes will not be dissipated in excessive interest charges. A difference of as little as one quarter of one percent in the interest rate on a bond issue of one million dollars payable over 20 years amounts to $25,000.00.

The campaign by the Taxpayers' Federation and the Civic Federation to build up public support for the bill will start in November after the elections. Copies of the proposed bill will be sent to all newspapers, radio stations, elected members of the Illinois General Assembly, local chambers of commerce, manufacturers associations and other local organizations, in order that everyone interested can have adequate opportunity to consider the bill thoroughly before it is introduced in the legislature.

Water Has Ability To Purify Itself

A stream or lake is a beautiful example of nature's balance of forces. Fish and other animal life take in oxygen and give off carbon dioxide in their life-processes, just as land animals do. Plants take in carbon dioxide and give off oxygen. The system is in balance. But when pollution enters the stream or lake, this delicate balance is upset.

Water is able to purify itself by natural processes, up to a certain point. Sewage or other organic matter which enters the water is first diluted by the volume of clean water in the waterway. Then tiny bacteria in the water and in sewage itself begin to work on the foreign matter. They use it as food, converting it into energy and other products.

These bacteria need oxygen for their life processes too. They take oxygen from the water. This is the same oxygen that fish and other water life need, and water has only a certain amount of it. When the oxygen supply gives out, bacteria can no longer live to do their work. The fish, of course, cannot live either.

There is a limit to the pollution load that a stream can handle. This limit is set by the amount of oxygen available to do the job. It depends on the amount of water in the stream and the rate at which the water is moving. A large, fast-moving river can purify much more material than a small, lazy stream.

Until just a few years ago, most Americans lived on farms and in small towns. There were not so many factories, and most of them were small. Water pollution was not a major problem then; even the smaller rivers could take care of the pollution load they received.

But now, three out of five of us live in cities. Our industries have grown to enormous size and are still growing rapidly. These cities and industries pour vast amounts of wastes into our waterways. The waterways do not have enough oxygen for the bacteria to use in consuming these wastes.

When its oxygen is used up, all life in the water must leave or die. The tiny animals and plants, which fish need for food, die first. Then the fish themselves disappear, or their bodies float on the surface. The waters take on a greasy look and a foul odor.

The living waters have died.

Take Care, Don't Be A Cornpicker Statistic This Fall

Careless operation can quickly nullify the harvesting skill of the mechanical corn picker.

This year's corn harvest will take another heavy toll in mangled fingers, hands, arms and legs, and even death, unless Illinois farmers are more careful with their pickers, says E. I. Pilchard, vice president of the Illinois Rural Safety Council.

Here are three rules to follow that will help reduce the number of cornpicker accidents, Pilchard says:

1. Stop the picker before you leave the tractor seat. There is no practical way to guard picker rolls. The only alternative is to turn off the power before you try to clear the rolls. Follow the same rule before oiling or adjusting any part of the picker.
2. Keep guards in place. Manufacturers do their part in furnishing safety shields for power take-offs and exposed moving parts that can be guarded. Do your part by keeping them in place.
3. Keep the equipment clean to prevent fire in the field. Don't let trash pile up on the manifold or exhaust pipes. Watch for leaky fuel lines, and never refuel with the motor running. Keep a fire extinguisher on your tractor. A buretor may prevent a fire.

When it comes to V-8 experience Ford's got it!

Ford V-Block V-8... with the famous, low-friction, deep-block design

The Ford V-block V-8 is the fully perfected result of Ford's experience building more V-8's than all other makers combined—more than 14,000,000 V-8 engines.

It took years of evolution for Ford to arrive at the wonderful V-8 engine it has today. An engine with deep-block design for added smoothness—longer life... with short-stroke, low-friction design to reduce wear—to increase gas mileage.

And so it goes in feature after feature. Ford was first in its field with Ball-Joint Front Suspension—with suspended pedals—with truly modern styling—with a host of other features which set the trend in the industry. This means that you can have as modern a car as money can buy—a car that commands the highest resale value in its field.

Bert Fulton School News

Halloween is drawing near. One can be certain of this especially if in the Fulton school. The rooms are beginning to be decorated in orange and black. Big scary jack-o-lantern and frightful witches are appearing on the windows. The children hope all who see them will be properly scared!

In room 103, first graders had their first experience with finger painting. It was difficult in many cases to distinguish the picture and the child, both were covered with red paint!

Boys and girls in 105 were very disappointed when they returned to school last Tuesday. All week they had been watching one of their fish. They were eagerly anticipating all the new baby fish soon to appear. Tragedy struck! On returning to school they found their pet floating on top of the water. Third graders were truly disappointed.

Many happy shrieks can be heard coming from the gym these days. The children enjoy tumbling on the new gym mats. Equally popular are relay races which are gay, noisy, and funny. One big achievement is now noted among first graders in the gym. The mystery of tying shoe laces is almost conquered by almost everyone!

LINCOLN WAY SCHOOL NEWS

On Thursday, Oct. 7 at 7:45, the Lincoln-Way speech and dramatics class took to the air for the first time. The first introductory program consisted of addresses by the principal, A. H. Chapman and the guidance director, Ralph Wright, plus school news of interest to Lincolnites all over this area.

After a launching talk by Chapman, Wright outlined the course and activities program for our new school. The modern approach to Lincoln-Way was encoined throughout the discussion. The program then took a turn to the student side with the school calendar as read by Bill Heidrich and Mary Ann Heisner.

To conclude the show, Frances Bajorinas presented the proposed radio schedule for the year. She pointed out that Lincoln-Way will be on the air each Thursday at 7:45 over WJOL. Through the medium of radio the listener will be taken into the various departments of the school. On Oct. 21 the Agriculture department put on its first production. Next Thursday's program will feature the Business Education department, and on Sunday afternoons (as announced) the speech class will present various radio dramas. The first of the series airs Oct. 24. It is called Operation Oglethorpe.

At an election on Wednesday, Oct. 13, the Senior class of Lincoln-Way Community High School chose their officers for the school year 1954-55. Those selected by the majority of the voters were as follows: president, Dale McMahon; vice president, Gregory Brown; secretary, Ardis Batson; treasurer, Mary Vaughn; social chairman, Emogene Anderson and John Mann.

Faculty advisers for the seniors are Earl H. Dieken, Richard Keeley and Martha H. Welch.

A "Business Education" club at Lincoln-Way Community High School was organized recently. Officers are: Fred Madsen, president; Anita McMahon, vice president; Ardis Batson, secretary; and Dorothy Beam, treasurer. The meetings are held the first and third Thursday of each month. The purpose of the business education club is to promote better understanding between the management and business.

It is planned to have several business leaders to appear who will talk on special fields of interest to students.

They are also planning to become members of the Future Business Leaders of America and are waiting for a response from Washington, D.C.

The I.B.M. people have extended the Business club an invitation to come to their offices in Chicago.

The 1955 AEGIS, the first edition of the Lincoln-Way Community High school yearbook, will go on sale for the first time Monday, Oct. 25. In addition to an individual picture of every student enrolled, each club or organization, band, chorus, athletics and many candid shots around the campus will be featured.

The book is expected to have 112 pages, 16 of which will be a supplement covering spring activities and graduation. There are three deadlines, the first on December 15 when 32 pages of copy must be delivered to the publisher; one in March and the final deadline on April 1, 1955. Delivery will be made on approximately May 15 while the supplement will of necessity be distributed during the summer.

On Oct. 11 despite floods and high water, representatives of Walingor Studios, Chicago, were at Lincoln-Way to photograph the seniors and faculty members. Upperclassmen will be scheduled to have their pictures made on a later date.

Anyone outside the school who is interested in purchasing a copy of the 1955 AEGIS may get in touch with any member of the staff to be given an opportunity to buy. The staff would appreciate the wholehearted cooperation of the community especially since working capital at the outset is practically non-existent. It is anticipated that 400 copies will be sold.
